

WOOLF FISHER SCHOLARSHIPS

The Woolf Fisher Scholarships were established in 2003 by the Trustees of the Woolf Fisher Trust to honour Woolf Fisher as co-founder, with Maurice Paykel, of the company Fisher & Paykel Limited (1934) and as foundation chairman of New Zealand Steel Limited (1965).

In 1960 Sir Woolf established the Woolf Fisher Trust for the advancement of scientific and general education. Its prestigious Fellowship programme has provided extensive study travel overseas for over 1000 secondary teachers.

Woolf Fisher's outstanding contributions to industry and education in New Zealand were recognised with a knighthood in 1964 and will be perpetuated by these Scholarships.

Purpose

The Woolf Fisher Trust offers up to three Scholarships each year tenable at the University of Cambridge for three or four years of postgraduate research leading to a doctoral degree or equivalent.

Woolf Fisher Scholars will have shown outstanding academic ability and will possess many of the qualities admired by Woolf Fisher: integrity, leadership, boldness of vision and exceptional zeal, keenness and capacity for work.

The main objective of the Trustees is that Woolf Fisher Scholars will make a significant commitment to New Zealand and become leaders in their fields.

Eligibility

The Scholarships are open to New Zealand citizens who:

- a) are under the age of thirty in the year of application (i.e. will not have reached their thirtieth birthday by 31 December in the year the application is submitted);
- b) attended a secondary school in New Zealand for at least two years, and
- c) have graduated or are expected to graduate with a first-class honours degree from a university in New Zealand.

No application will be considered from a student already living outside of New Zealand and no award will be made for post-doctoral study.

Value and Tenure

A Woolf Fisher Scholar receives a maintenance allowance of GBP£20,000 sterling per year for each year of full-time study towards the degree approved at the time of the award.

In addition the Trustees pay directly and on behalf of the Scholar the approved University Composition Fee which includes the College Fee. An economy airfare to and from London is also provided annually for the personal use of the Scholar and is not transferable. It is estimated that each Scholarship will have a value of approximately NZD$100,000 per year.

The first half-yearly instalment of the Scholarship will be paid mid September of the year in which study commences and the second mid March. Further emoluments will be paid on each of the next anniversaries for the agreed tenure of the Scholarship, subject to the Trustees receiving reports from the supervisor and the scholar of satisfactory academic progress in the previous year of study.

The tenure of the Scholarship will normally be for three years of full time study. For study in a Faculty requiring a four year doctoral programme, the Scholarship will be extended by one year to a total of four years provided the Scholar maintains suitable progress. The Scholarship will not be extended beyond four years.

Other awards may not be held concurrently with the Scholarship without prior consultation with the Secretary of the Woolf Fisher Trust.

Woolf Fisher Scholars may be eligible for a Woolf Fisher Postdoctoral Research Scholarship if they return to New Zealand within seven years of commencing study at Cambridge University. Application must be made to the Secretary of the Trust.
